

This is the first paragraph of a simple test document.

The second paragraph contains more text to ensure we have enough content for the analyzer to work with. This paragraph is intentionally longer.

A third paragraph rounds out this simple document. It contains only plain text with no images, tables, or links.